

2005 WORKSHOP: INFORMAL DIPLOMACY AND THE KOREAN PENINSULA

SATURDAY 3 DECEMBER at the British Museum
(Study day organised in association with the British Museum)

INFORMAL DIPLOMACY AND THE KOREAN PENINSULA

Keith Bennett (consultant): 'Bamboo Curtain or Open Door? A business consultant surveys the challenges and opportunities of the DPRK'

Aidan Foster-Carter (Leeds): 'Sowing Corn in My Enemy's Fields: High and Low Politics in Inter-Korean Relations'

Dave Lakin (Museum of London): 'The Kaesong Archaeological Project'

Don Starr (Durham): 'The World Koreanist Forum 2005 and Korean studies'

Andrew Killick (University of Sheffield): 'Music in the North- South relationship: Hwang Byung-ki'

Nick Bonner/Dan Gordon (VeryMuchSo Productions): 'The Reel Korea: Film-making (and some other things) in the DPRK'

Gay Pye (Anglican priest): 'The OMF mission in the ROK'

Keith Pratt (Durham): 'The Evolution of Museums in the ROK'